

Leader Attributes (Intellect)

TASK: Discuss the Leader Attribute Intellect

CONDITIONS: Discussion facilitated group discussion

STANDARDS: Understand the attribute of what a Leader of Intellect is and how it relates to mission completion and daily operations of a Leader.

REFERENCE(S): ADP 6-22/ADRP 6-22 Army Leadership
August 2012

Leader Intellect

What is a Leader of intellect and what influence does it have on Soldiers and Unit?

(Discussion) Who is an example of what an Army Leader that possess intellect? What direct influence does that Leader have on you?

(Counselors, mentors, and Leaders that have directly impacted you)

Intellect relates to how mental agility and knowledge of resources that can be applied to responsibilities, duty, and mission accomplishment.

Leader Intellect

Basic components of Intellect

(Discussion) What are the basic components of Intellect and why are they important? (Mental agility, Sound Judgment, Innovation, Interpersonal Tact, and Expertise).

These basic components are essential to the daily actions of a Leader and how it relates to peers and subordinates, and most of all mission accomplishment.

Leader Intellect

(Discussion) How does a Leaders Intellect enhance morale and results within a squad, section, or organization?

A Leader with intellect possesses the necessary variables to make sound decisions while being fair and impartial. Being innovative and constantly communicating with your Soldiers will allow you to better understand their capabilities when it comes to mission accomplishment. A leader with good intellect will have the knowledge to lead Soldiers in garrison operations and on the battlefield.