United States Army Garrison, NTC and Fort Irwin September 2017

participate in

National Preparedness Month

Have you ever tried to bake cookies without flour? It just doesn't work—the cookies turn out flat and they don't taste as good. If you don't properly prepare, you won't yield positive results. The same can be said about emergency preparedness. If you do not properly prepare, you won't yield positive results.

Fortunately, to guide us through disaster preparation, the Federal Emergency Management Association (FEMA) under the National Homeland Security Department deemed September as National Preparedness Month. Their website lists and informs us on how to prepare. Here are some highlights:

make a plan

Build a personalized plan for your family that answers questions like "How will I let my family know I'm safe" if separated in a disaster.

BE INFORMED

Know what kind of disasters your area is susceptible to. Know your community preparedness plan and how you'll become aware of emergency alerts.

build a kit

Assemble or update your emergency preparedness supply kit. This should include food, water, clothing and other supplies to get you through a disaster.

THE GARRISON SAFETY OFFICE IS UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Beginning 5 September 2017, the Garrison Safety Office will undergo renovation and will relocate from B1206 to BT452 located on 3d Street.

The renovation is expected to last from 5 Sep 17 through 31 Aug 18.

Motorcycle/Driver's Training is located at the facility listed on page 2 of this newsletter.

We apologize for any inconvenience.

For more information please call 380-6154/6024/7708 or 1347.

Make a Plan - We encourage you to make a plan and talk about and practice it with your family.

Are You Prepared - FEMA offers an app where users can receive weather alerts for up to five different areas, view an emergency preparedness checklist, and get safety tips for numerous emergency situations. It also lists shelters and gives users the ability to upload photos to help emergency managers.

Communication is the Key – Communicate with family members and employees.

Critically review your plan - Before the month ends, make it a priority to review your current emergency plan

Sincerely,

Garrison Safety Team
